

BEST PLACES TO VISIT IN COLOMBIA

Columbia is a country in northwestern South America with beautiful tourist attractions. As a traveler's paradise, it is filled with urban cities, lots of jungles, and exotic beaches and is an amazing idea for a vacation trip. Due to the numerous interesting places to visit in Columbia which can be overwhelming to pick from, we have curated the best places to visit whenever you find yourself in Columbia.

Bogota

The first on our list is Bogota, the capital of Columbia and the largest metropolis in the country. The city is surrounded by mountains and trees, making it a cold place with great ambiance. Bogata is a lively and historical city with colonial parliament architecture, the Justice Palace, flea markets, delicious food in hipster-approved restaurants and bars.

Salento and the Coffee Triangle

Experience the fascinating view of numerous coffee plantations in this coffee triangle. It is also known as Eje Cafetera and houses thousands of large and small coffee plantations, some of which offer on-site accommodations where you can get breakfast and relax. Salento which is often regarded as the most beautiful city in Colombia and known to be friendly, quiet, and colorful is located in the heart of the coffee triangle.

Medellin

Medellin is a mountain metropolis known for its urban and sophisticated infrastructure and is known for its nickname “The City of Eternal Spring”. To get a perfect view of the city, a must-ride is the popular metrocable, Medellín’s award-winning public transportation system. You can also get delicacies from the Poblado neighborhood and visit places like the Plaza Botero, and the Museum of Antioquia.

El Totumo Mud Volcano

Looking to get in-volcano massages and cleansing rinses? Then the El Totumo Mud Volcano is an oddly satisfying place for you to visit. Here, you can take a dip in the silky, mineral-rich mud that fills its crater along with other indigenes or tourists.

Cali

The city of Cali is a bubbly place to visit for those that love dancing. The city is known as the salsa capital. Looking to learn salsa and experience the wildlife? Cali is the destination for you. Its neighborhoods are safe with thrilling nightlife and many sports teams which make the city a must-visit for tourists.

Tayrona National Park

Are you all about the beaches and getting wet? Then Tayrona National Park is a significant place for you to be. One of the most beautiful places on earth with crystal-clear Caribbean sea, white sand beaches, thick jungle, thick mangrove forests that line the coast, and the tallest coastal mountains that plunge dramatically into the sea forming a natural system of bays and coves.

The Lost City

The Lost City, La Ciudad Perdida was built over 1200 years ago by Tayrona civilization and is referred to as the land of the Koguis. Although it takes about five days of intense trekking to get to the Lost city as it is hidden deep in the jungle, the city's ruins are older than Machu Picchu and worth it.